I seems to me that the FCC should look at the big picture and see that the traffic and weather is as important to the people that PAY for the XM service as the music is, sometimes it's more important. Put yourself in the senario that you are leaving work, you tune to DC traffic and hear of an overturned tractor trailer blocking I-95 south bound, would you get on that road?, or would you find an alternate route. How about weather?, I personally will look for an exit and park if I hear of SEVERE weather aproaching the area, I have driven in rain so hard that suddenly you can't see the car in front of you, how about you? Did you feel safe knowing a few seconds ago there was a "BIG RIG" beside you that you cant' see now? How about Tornado's being spotted on the ground, would you like to know where it is?, or just take your chance's with the AM or FM updates, when they provide it? I pay for the service and believe it is my right to continue to receive the service without the FCC stepping on our rights as tax paying American citizens. Give the "NAB" lobbist their money back and leave us alone.
